

Dianne Bruce has had a varied career in the human services field.

Her first FICA job was as a Nurse's Aide in a nursing home during summers in college.

Over the years, she has worked with Teen Parents and survivors of Domestic Violence.

For 14 years she served as the Executive Director of Edward Street Child Services in Worcester, Massachusetts providing advocacy, resources and support to early childhood educators and the children they serve.

In Worcester she served on the board of the Planned Giving Council of Central Massachusetts. She has also served as President of the Boards of the Worcester Public Library, St. Mary Healthcare (SNF) and the Worcester Woman's History Project.

Since relocating to Florida last year she has returned to her roots and serves as Director of Grants for Alzheimer's Community Care – an organization that provides advocacy, resources and support to Alzheimer's patients and their family caregivers.
